

Eagles Reserve Community Facebook Group Information

We have created a Facebook group in an effort for owners and renters to receive and share information about our community, essentially stay better informed. You are invited to become a member of the group.

Most people know about Facebook as they use it to stay in touch with family, friends and other groups they are associated. If you have never used Facebook, we have included instructions below dealing with setting up an account and then gaining access to the Eagles Reserve group.

This does require that you have a computer or phone with Internet access. Essentially, since you are receiving this email you should be ready to go.

We would like to say that some folks are leery of joining Facebook as they believe too much of their personal data will be exposed. The nice thing about Facebook is that only the data you provide and make visible is available for viewing, so you can create an account, join the group and do nothing more if that is what you wish to do. This allows you to participate in discussions, ask questions and generally keep up to date on what is going on in the community.

An example of what makes this group good for the community follows. A resident asked for suggestions on a dryer vent cleaning service. They had the vents cleaned and found that there was a screen left on the vent that had accumulated inches of lint. This was an obvious fire hazard and dramatically lowers the efficiency of the dryer. They shared this on Facebook, with pictures and informed villa owners that they should take steps to see if this might be their situation also.

The nice thing about Facebook is when you sign in, you see notifications of posts made by group members, and also family and friends if you choose to connect with those people.

We encourage you to join, keep abreast of what is happening in the community and share.
